Onni & Ilona visual stimulation cards go digital in new app for babies

Childrens brand Onni & Ilona branches out into mobile apps

Helsinki, Finland, June 5th 2017: Today, childrens brand Onni & Ilona, focusing on goods for the visual stimulation of infants, announced the release of their first mobile app in a planned series of kids apps. Onni & Ilona: Happy Animals will be released on the Apple App Store on Thursday June 15th 2017. Familiar Onni & Ilona characters are brought to life with the help of amusing animations and delightful sound in the app, which is designed for babies aged up to one year.

Of the upcoming app release, Onni & Ilona founder and illustrator Leena Junnila said, "Onni & Ilona: Happy Animals joins a very small number of apps designed specifically for babies of such a young age. I hope that the app becomes a source for cherished moments of joy and connection between children and their parents. From earlier experience, I've often observed how a baby's expressions and reactions to our stimulation cards are also rewarding to the parent. Hopefully the app can form a basis for mutual collaboration and play."

Onni & Ilona: Happy Animals features 12 charming animal characters that animate and sound off in amusing ways, of which three are free-of charge. The nine rest may be purchased within the app in a single transaction. The app aims to support infant eyesight development with clear and high-contrast imagery. Each animal responds to touch with a unique animation. Onni & Ilona: Happy Animals can be a safe first app experience for infants where they begin to grasp concepts of action and reaction. Alternatively the app may be displayed to the infant on a "movie mode", where the animals animate on their own.

The app developer is Pintxo Creative, a Helsinki-based kids app company, founded by Olli Hassinen and Ilari Niitamo. The idea for the app was born when Hassinen, a new father himself, contacted Junnila. "We had just had a little baby girl and she was enchanted by a few Onni & Ilona stimulation cards we had put up. I thought this would make a great fit for a mobile app", Hassinen recollects. Pintxo Creative hopes to strengthen Onni & Ilona's reach and appeal abroad. "We would like to see Onni & Ilona grow and be available to more people globally, and for this, Happy Animals can be a great conduit. What matters most is that we provide an app that genuinely resonates with families worldwide", Niitamo explains.

Onni & Ilona: Happy Animals is available on the Apple App Store on June 15th 2017.
